

WITH ANN MCCREA

KIDS ON KIDS* ART

“Clay is fun because it’s squishy”. – Luc

“As you look at the lump of clay, you can look inside and see what the finished thing will be”. – Seba

“I like coming back because I like making things and seeing how they will turn out”. – Hanna

“You can make all kinds of animals. I give them as presents to my parents and grandparents.” – Allie

AFTERSCHOOL WEEKDAY SERIES – JAN-APR 2012

Children’s interests, literature and folk art inform the art projects. Clay sculpting, drawing, some painting and collages are among skills explored. Small classes and an emphasis on the gifts and interests of each child create a positive atmosphere where children’s creativity can flourish.

Tuition: $239 (SAVE $17!) for two consecutive sessions / $128 for one session. Please send full amount or nonrefundable deposit ($95 for two sessions / $45 for one session), due at least one week in advance, payable to Ann McCrea to address below.

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Ann McCrea has found creativity is part of our humanity. For 30 years her students have found joy in her artist’s studio in downtown Newburyport, creating art they treasure. Her programs have been widely acclaimed by students, parents, librarians and teachers. Ann’s art has been shown at The McCoy Gallery, the Robert Lehman Art Gallery, the Carl Youngman Gallery, the Newburyport Art Association and the Maudslay Outdoor Sculpture Show. Recently, the Gallery Della Piana has exhibited her collages.
